

RP Quick Guide to ASA Designation for SRAs

A Quick Guide to ASA's Real Property (RP) Accreditation Program for SRAs

It's as easy as One, Two, Three.

Step 1: Become a Candidate Member of ASA

- Pass ASA's Online Ethics Exam
- Pass USPAP Exam (if applicable) *

USPAP requirement may be met by providing a copy of your valid state RP license*

Step 2: Provide SRA Documentation

- Provide your SRA designation certificate
- Provide a copy of your valid RP state license
- Complete the online accreditation application

Step 3: International Board of Examine Review

- Your completed application will be sent to a reviewer on ASA's International Board of Examiners for review
- Once that review has been completed (usually less than ten (10) days, you will receive your ASA designation

Awarded Accredited Senior Appraiser (ASA) Designation in Real Property (RP)

Details on these requirements may be found in the Real Property (RP)
Guide to Professional Accreditation*
