

PRESENTS

JESSE THOMPSON

EVOLVING ENERGY OUTLOOK OIL, NATURAL GAS, ELECTRICITY, AND UNCERTAINTY

Jesse Thompson is a senior business economist at the Houston Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

Thompson, who joined the Bank in 2010, performs research and analysis on issues affecting the Houston and Gulf Coast economy. In particular, he studies issues surrounding area hydrocarbon industries. He also collects information for the Dallas Fed's Beige Book summary of current economic conditions. He is author of the monthly Energy Indicator and Houston Economic Indicators. He also contributes to the publication Southwest Economy.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4

Networking 11:30 AM
Presentation & Lunch
12:00 PM CT

Grotto Ristorante, 4715
Westheimer Rd.,
Houston, TX 77027

1 hour of CE Credit, Cost:
$30 (includes lunch)
or $20 online only

REGISTER NOW